1 General Information

Introduction
The Pre-Hospital Emergency Care Council (PHECC) is an independent statutory body with responsibility for standards in education and training in the field of pre-hospital emergency care in Ireland.

PHECC was established by the Minister for Health and Children by Statutory Instrument 109 of 2000 (PHECC Establishment Order). PHECC’s responsibilities were enhanced by Statutory Instrument 575 of 2004 (PHECC Amendment Order) and the Health (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 2007.

PHECC oversees the NQEMT examination process from setting the standard for course content, writing examination questions, training and approving examiners, marking examinations and awarding the National Qualification in Emergency Medical Technology (NQEMT). We are committed to working in partnership with our training institutions and test centre providers in order to deliver high quality examinations that are efficient, fair and accessible.

The NQEMT examination is a benchmark process, which assesses the knowledge and skills for competent practice as an EMT, Paramedic and AP. PHECC is empowered to award the NQEMT to successful candidates. Holders of the NQEMT apply to PHECC for entry on to the national professional register for pre-hospital emergency care practitioners.

This examination handbook aims to acquaint candidates and Recognised Institutions (RIs) with the examination process, how it is conducted and the specific detail of each of its components. This will ensure candidates are prepared appropriately.

Legal Basis
PHECC is charged with responsibility for the conduct of examinations with respect to Pre-Hospital Emergency Medical Technology.

Extract from Establishment Order (S.I. No 109 of 2000)/Amendment Order (S.I. No 575 of 2004):

Article 4: The functions of the Council shall be to

(a) Conduct examinations leading to the award of the NQEMT at the level of competence of Emergency Medical Technician, Paramedic or Advanced Paramedic, as the case may be.

(b) Award the NQEMT to such persons as have completed a recognised course under sub-article (h) (i) in a RI and have passed the relevant examination conducted by the Council pursuant to sub-article (b) of this Article.

Article 31: The Council may charge such fees as may, from time to time, be determined by the Council, with the consent of the Minister, for

(a) The admission for any person to an examination conducted by the Council pursuant to Article 4(b) of this Order.

Data Protection
PHECC administers its responsibilities, under the Data Protection Act 1988 Revised 30th March 2012, in accordance with the principles outlined in the Act.

Personal identifiable information will never be released to a third party, an exception to this will be when a specific agreement is in place with an approved and authorised external organisation.

Candidates for NQEMT examination authorise PHECC and Prometric, PHECC’s service partner under contract, to process personal identification data in order to fulfil obligations to the candidate.

PHECC staff will only communicate directly with examination candidates during the examination process. Interaction with third parties, on behalf of a candidate, will not take place.
Retention of Examination Materials
The retention schedule will be reviewed periodically in light of experience and any legal or other relevant indications:

1. De-identified electronic analysis of examination results will be retained indefinitely for quality improvement purposes
2. All examination material will be retained for current month plus twelve (12) months
3. All examination material will be destroyed by confidential shredding
4. All examination appeals material will be retained for the current year plus three (3) years
5. All examination appeal material will be destroyed by confidential shredding

Examination Validity and Reliability
Examination Quality Group Role
The Examination Quality Group is responsible for:

1. Ensuring the validity and reliability of the NQEMT examination content.
2. Facilitating continuous quality improvement of the examination function.

Details are outlined in [Terms of Reference for the Examination Quality Group].

Examiners Role
Examiners are responsible for:

1. Assessing candidates at Objective Structured Clinical Examinations (OSCE)
2. Correcting Short Written Answer (SWA) papers, Paramedic level.

Details are outlined in [Terms of Reference for the Examiner Panel].

Test Delivery Service
Prometric is an international organisation which operates an extensive multi-channel network of secure, invigilated test centres in Ireland. Candidates can only undertake the PHECC computer based NQEMT EMT Multiple Choice Question (MCQ) examination at a Prometric Test Centre (PTC), within the Republic of Ireland. The test centres operate on a demand led basis.

Prior to undergoing the examination a completed application form must be submitted to PHECC and the test scheduled online.
RI Role

- A PHECC RI is an education and training institution that has been approved to deliver courses which have been approved by PHECC under Article 4 (a) of the PHECC Establishment Order.
- PHECC recognition as a training institution is a mandatory step before one or all of the following PHECC recognised courses can be delivered: Cardiac First Response (CFR), First Aid Response (FAR), EMT, Paramedic, AP and other courses as approved.
- PHECC RIs commit to delivering pre-hospital emergency care courses in accordance with PHECC’s Education and Training Standards and current Clinical Practice Guidelines (CPGs).

2 Examination Structure & Content

Eligibility to sit the Examination
To be eligible to sit the NQEMT examination you must:
Complete the relevant PHECC recognised course or be requested to sit the exam as part of PHECC’s recognition process. This process is associated with recognition of equivalence of professional qualifications in pre-hospital emergency care obtained in or outside the state.

Overview
The NQEMT examination components for EMT & Paramedic are assessed through theoretical and practical examination elements.

The theoretical elements, assess knowledge:
- MCQ
- SWA (Paramedic level only)

Practical elements, assess skills competency:
- OSCE

All components are based on PHECC Education and Training Standards and current Clinical Practice Guidelines (CPGs).

MCQ
The MCQ examination is a computer based theory test consisting of one hundred (100) questions, each of which is followed by four possible answers. The candidate will select the correct answer to the question. The questions are randomly selected by computer software and delivered according to the weighting allocated to each section of the EMT Standard, on which the examination is based. Each exam is individual to each candidate.

To help candidates prepare for the MCQ helpful information is available on the PHECC website:
Paramedic: An online practice/demonstration. MCQ Exam.
EMT: MCQ Exam Guide
The practice exam is not a knowledge test but a demonstration for students on how to use the software as well as being an exercise in familiarisation with the exam process. The demonstration and tutorial are continually available online so students can have access at their convenience.
It is not compulsory, to undertake the demonstration exam or review the tutorial, but students are strongly encouraged to make use of the facility.
Duration
- NQEMT Examination EMT: 80 minutes
- NQEMT Examination Paramedic: 75 minutes

Marking
All one hundred (100) MCQ exam questions carry one mark each, with eighty (80) being the pass mark.

Unsuccessful Candidates
Unsuccessful candidates will be offered one repeat only of the MCQ exam. See SECTION 8 after the examination.

SWA
The Paramedic SWA examination consists of three parts, A, B and C with three questions in each part. Candidates answer six questions in total attempting two questions from each part.

Part A – attempt 2 from 3 questions
Part B – attempt 2 from 3 questions
Part C – attempt 2 from 3 questions

The first two answers presented, in each part, will be corrected. Additional answers will not be corrected and therefore are not marked.

Duration
NQEMT Paramedic: Two (2) hours.

Marking
All questions carry 20 marks each. The pass mark is 70.

Unsuccessful Candidates
Unsuccessful candidates will be offered one repeat only of the SWA exam. See SECTION 8, after the examination.

OSCE
The OSCE is a clinical skill performance and competency based assessment, with each assessment having a duration of eight (8) minutes. The candidates are observed and evaluated as they progress through a series of eight (8) controlled scenarios/stations, on one (1) circuit, until all are completed. On occasion there may be a number of OSCE circuits for an exam, depending on the number of exam candidates.

Participation in an OSCE is normally limited to one hundred (100) candidates.

A skill station may consist of three possible scenarios:

1. One complete skill capable of being completed within the 8 minute time frame, i.e. application of a traction splint.
2. A number of short skills capable of being completed within the 8 minute time frame, i.e. selection and application of a number of different O2 masks.
3. An element of a skill, where the complete skill would normally take longer than the 8 minute time frame, i.e. application of an extrication device taken from a specific point in the process.

The OSCE at EMT level is divided into four primary and four secondary skills stations. The skills assessed in the primary stations are more critical in terms of patient outcome than those assessed in secondary stations. Assessment sheets are available on the PHECC website to guide candidates through the assessment process.

Note: Assessment sheets will not be changed within 60 days prior to an exam.
OSCE Success Requirement
Candidates are required to complete and pass all skill stations on the day, in order to be deemed successful.
Candidates who are unsuccessful in one skill station will be offered a re-sit on the same day.
Candidates who are unsuccessful in two or more skill stations will be automatically deemed unsuccessful in the OSCE and will not be offered a same day re-sit.
Unsuccessful candidates will be offered one repeat only of the OSCE. See SECTION 8, after the Examination.

OSCE Same Day Re-sits
Candidates who are unsuccessful in one skill station will be offered a re-sit on the same day.
Such candidates will be required to re-sit the unsuccessful station only.
Candidates who do not avail of the same day re-sit at the scheduled time will be deemed unsuccessful.
Unsuccessful candidates will be offered the opportunity to repeat the OSCE, if they have a second attempt remaining.

Paramedic Candidates
The NQEMT OSCE at Paramedic level was devolved to NASC/UCD and DFB/RCSI. Details are outlined in the Paramedic Assessment Schedules.

Special Needs Candidates
A candidate who can provide evidence demonstrating that he/she has specific learning difficulty/difficulties may apply for special consideration when sitting the MCQ exam. Considerations available include provision of a voice over, and/or an additional 40 minutes to complete the exam, based on the recommendations outlined in the candidate’s supporting report.

When registering at the test centre candidates should make Prometric staff aware of their requirements.
Applications for special consideration will only be accepted when the following conditions are met:

1. Notification of specific learning difficulty and application for the special consideration required, is submitted with the exam application.
2. Application is accompanied by a relevant report prepared by a suitably-qualified medical practitioner.
3. In the case of a dyslexic candidate, a psycho-educational assessment report by an educational psychologist must be submitted with the application.

- Failure to submit a fully-completed application form, with supporting documentation where relevant, will result in the exam application being refused.
- EMT candidates have scheduled their MCQ exams through Prometric via the PHECC website.
- OSCE candidates are issued with their exam details.
- Candidates have read and fully understand the requirement to fully comply with the Terms & Conditions listed in Section 4 of this Handbook, non-compliance will result in the candidate being refused admission or being asked to leave the exam.
- Candidates are aware of the MCQ demonstration (paramedic) facility on www.phecc.ie

RI Role – OSCE Examination Centre

The overall responsibility for the provision of OSCE exam facilities lies with the RI. While local factors and conditions may determine the exact nature of the facilities being provided, RIs must endeavour to comply with the agreed specification.

In general, RIs are responsible for providing:

- Scheduling of Personnel.
- Examiners, assisting practitioners and patient substitutes as specified by PHECC.
- Personnel for candidate supervision.

Equipment:

- OSCE station set up, check and troubleshoot (including equipment, signage).

- Organisation and supply of all OSCE equipment.
- ICT: PA System (hire, set up).
3 Exam Deferral

General
In the case of a temporary incapacity (e.g. sudden illness, accident, other extenuating circumstances), a candidate may make an application for deferral of an examination.

An application for deferral will only be considered when accompanied by an original medical certificate. Scans, photocopies, or faxed copies will not be accepted.

Failure to furnish an appropriate medical certificate will be regarded as a failed exam attempt.

A candidate, who does not attend a scheduled sitting of an MCQ/OSCE/SWA (by reason of medical certification), may only apply to undergo the next NQEMT exam.

Candidates who do not avail of the next scheduled NQEMT exam, will forfeit their fee for that exam.

In contingent circumstances (e.g. family bereavement), special consideration may be given.

EMT
MCQ
Where deferral occurs, after the MCQ exam has been scheduled, the candidate must inform Prometric, via the website or Candidate Contact Centre Prometric Web Page as soon as possible before the MCQ exam date.

If an exam is rescheduled or cancelled due to sudden illness, accident or other extenuating circumstances, less than “five (5) business days before” the exam date, an appropriate medical certificate must be furnished, within “five (5) business days following” the exam date. Failure to do so will result in the exam booking being regarded as a failed attempt.

OSCE
Where deferral occurs, after the exam application has been submitted and the OSCE has been scheduled, the candidate must inform PHECC, as soon as possible before the exam date. A medical certificate must be forwarded and received by PHECC no later than five (5) business days following the examination date.

Paramedic
MCQ and SWA
Where this occurs after the exam has been scheduled, the candidate must inform PHECC, via email or phone, as soon as possible before the exam date, enclosing a medical certificate or letter supporting the claim. A medical certificate must be received by PHECC within “five (5) business days following” the exam date.

Scheduling
Examination candidates can only schedule one exam per exam application form submitted to PHECC. Once an appointment is made, three options exist:

1. Cancel the appointment.
2. Change the appointment (which automatically cancels the previous appointment).
3. Take the exam at the place and time scheduled.

Note: Non-attendance at an NQEMT examination in addition to non-compliance of the above will be regarded as an “unsuccessful result”.

Uncontrolled document when printed or copied. Check www.phecc.ie to verify current version.

MCQs

SWAs
Rechecks of SWA scripts will be carried out by a PHECC examiner who will independently review and remark the script.

Examination Appeals
Set out below are the circumstances where consideration will be given to NQEMT Exam appeals.

1. Only appeals of one of the following will be considered by the Appeals Panel:
   a. That PHECC’s examination procedures, available in the NQEMT Examination Handbook, were not properly employed in the conduct of the examination and that this procedural irregularity disadvantaged the appellant. For example, equipment failure in an OSCE or PC malfunctions not immediately rectified.
   b. Extenuating circumstances, referring to a serious or unforeseen event in which the appellant suffered an illness or some personal or family trauma at the time of examination. The appellant must provide original medical certificates or other supporting information to support their case that extenuating circumstances apply. The illness or trauma must be shown to have affected them in the examination or in the period immediately leading up to it. See SECTION 3 Scheduling.

2. A successful appeal will not lead to an examination result being altered. When an appeal is upheld, the usual outcome is to allow an opportunity to retake that part of the examination that was in dispute without payment for further examination fees.

3. If a student has cause to appeal a matter in relation to an RI’s conduct of an NQEMT examination they should follow the RI’s appeals and complaints procedure.

4. The following circumstances will not be considered grounds for appeal and any such applications will be returned:
   a. Perceived past shortcomings in tuition, supervision or support from the RI. The RI’s complaints procedures must be followed to address these issues as they arise.
   b. The structure, content or presentation of MCQ/SWA exams. Perceived shortcomings in individual MCQ/SWA questions cannot be considered as grounds for appeal.
   c. The actual mark awarded for an examination. Being close to the pass mark is not grounds for appeal. If a student wishes to have clarification about results for a part of an examination, except the OSCE, an examination viewing and recheck can be considered.

5. Please note the following regarding OSCE appeals:
   - An OSCE appeal must be lodged with the exam coordinator before the candidate leaves the OSCE circuit.
   - All appeals will be brought to the attention of the Director.
Repeats & Unsuccessful Candidates
EMT candidates will be permitted to repeat, once only, the MCQ/OSCE component of the NQEMT EMT examination, Council policy for the NQEMT examination refers.
