

Hello everyone,

My name is Joseph Mooney and I have been registered as an EMT since 2009. I have been a Volunteer with the Order of Malta Ireland for the past nine years and before that I was a volunteer with the Auxiliary Fire Service for 4 years. My full-time profession is a Care Assistant in St Francis Hospice in Raheny.

I am an instructor at Cardiac First Responder level (CFR) and Emergency First Responder level (EFR). I am also a mentor for Cardiac First Response, Emergency First Response, Emergency Medical Technician and instruct on basic first aid courses and Paediatric first aid courses.

I have also completed the International trauma life-support (ITLS) course and the paediatric trauma life-support (PTLS) course

I believe that EMTs in Ireland need a strong voice of support and a person they can rely on and trust, I strongly believe I am the right person to fill this position. Many EMTs in Ireland are volunteers and I feel that volunteers with proper instruction can provide vital patient care procedures to the benefit of the public. I also believe that EMTs are capable of operating to the highest standards of patient care in Ireland.

I understand how important development and training at EMT level is. As an elected member of the Medical Advisory Committee I will endeavour to help assist, advise and support EMTs in order to achieve the highest standard of care and practice among EMT's in Ireland.

Thank you for your support and I hope we can work together in the future

Joe
